

/ INCOMING FOREIGN STUDENTS

Foreign students spending a period of study in the region in 2020/2021 fell to about a third of numbers from the previous year (down from 450 to 139). The declining figures confirm the trend that began with the outbreak of the pandemic again for this academic year.

Data on the countries of origin of incoming students were stable. Most were European citizens enrolled on courses in Human and Social Sciences.

CITIZENSHIP OF INCOMING STUDENTS

EU Europe
(not including Italy): 115
83%

Non EU
Europe: 9
6%

Rest of the world: 15
11%